

Kestrel, one-page usage rules

Use the approved logo lock-up and keep the system tight, simple and premium.

KESTREL
DEFENCE INSIGHTS

1. Default logo use

- Use the full lock-up as the default signature across headers, covers and campaign tiles.
- Use the symbol-only icon for app tiles, favicons and small-format placements.
- Use the supplied dark-mode logo asset on dark backgrounds rather than placing the light logo directly on navy.

2. Clear space and backgrounds

- Keep clear space equal to at least the height of the K in the wordmark.
- Preferred backgrounds are background mist, white or navy deep.
- Avoid busy photography, hard gradients and high-noise textures behind the mark.

3. Support graphics

- Use angular chevrons and triangular facets derived from the envelope shape.
- Keep support graphics subtle. They should frame the content, not dominate it.

4. Colour hierarchy

- Navy deep anchors text and structure.
- Indigo and violet create premium brand character.
- Royal blue and electric blue add signal and digital energy.
- Background mist keeps the system calm and executive-ready.

5. Do not

- Do not distort or re-stack the lock-up.
- Do not recolour the symbol outside the approved palette.
- Do not swap the type style casually or add glossy effects, shadows or bevels.
- Do not place the logo inside unrelated shields or weapon-style motifs.

6. Suggested use cases

- Email mastheads, PowerPoint covers, PDF covers, social tiles, Teams banners and section dividers.
- Use the campaign line outside the core lock-up. Keep DEFENCE INSIGHTS intact in the logo.
